Subject: Microsoft Settlement

What has been done via the settlement is disgusting. Microsoft, obviously, wrote and stands behind these terms, they are not enough. Not even close, the Japanese were not allowed to name the conditions of their surrender. Why should Microsoft? They should, at the very least, be made to strip the OS of all their hooks, and sell it as such. You really should look more too all of their products as the "rogue" states have done, this is not just as OS monopoly, but an Office Monopoly and if we don't get something done soon, a Media Player Monopoly and a Internet(.Net) Monopoly. This company is afraid of no-one, and will do whatever it takes to make loopholes. They have dead people writing letters in their support for crying out loud! They will do anything and must be stopped, cold, NOW!

Thank you from a concerned and scared(and alive) citizen of the United States,
